

Mary Had a Little Lamb

The musical notation is organized into four rows, each representing a measure of music. The notes are represented by colored circles with stems, and bar lines separate the measures.

- Row 2: A measure containing three notes: D (pink), D (pink), and D (pink) with a '1-2' below the second D. The second measure contains three notes: E (green), E (green), and E (green) with a '1-2' below the second E. A bar line follows.
- Row 3: A measure containing four notes: E (green), D (pink), C (blue), and D (pink). The second measure contains three notes: E (green), E (green), and E (green) with a '1-2' below the second E. A bar line follows.
- Row 4: A measure containing four notes: D (pink), D (pink), E (green), and D (pink). The second measure contains a single note: C (blue). A double bar line follows, with the text "THE END :)" to the right.
